

RMP_Jason_Waterman

source: rmp

url: <https://www.ratemyprofessors.com/professor/2102591>

CMPU-224 - Comment #1: Be prepared to get your hands dirty with the Gnu Debugger (GDB)!

year: Jun 1st, 2025

CMPU-224 - Comment #2: I absolutely love Prof Waterman. He is by far the best prof in the comp sci department at Vassar. He's a gem of a person and we are lucky to have him. His love for computers and teaching is perfectly clear to see through his hilarious and impassioned lectures. This was one of the more difficult comp sci classes at Vassar but also one of the best.

year: May 7th, 2025

CMPU-224 - Comment #3: He's definitely one of the best computer science professors at Vassar, and you will learn a lot in his class. The assignments can be challenging at times but are reasonable. Professor Waterman is probably the most enthusiastic professor I've had, and it's clear that he puts effort into knowing his students, which I appreciate.

year: Apr 18th, 2019

CMPU-224- Comment #4: I loved being in 224 with Professor Waterman. His lectures are really well organized (if sometimes a bit nap-inducing, but I'm sleepy), his assignments are fun/interesting, his exams are fair, and he clearly wants you to succeed. Learned a lot.

year: May 9th, 2018

CMPU-224- Comment #5: Definitely my favorite CS class I've had at Vassar so far. His lectures are very informative and he does a great job at distilling the complicated topics into their essentials. The labs are challenging, but very doable and he does a great job at guiding you through them. Exams are very fair, especially if you do the review sheet.

year: Dec 6th, 2016
